

Bababoom Launch

MARCH SAW the launch of Bababoom, Loughton's most exciting new venture in years. Having spent the past six years as one of the town's local midwives and growing tired of how difficult it was for pregnant women and their families to source services and products, Becky Elliott decided that it was about time it was all put under one roof. Becky joined forces with a friend and they both agreed that there was no better place for such an amazing concept but right in the heart of such a vibrant town. The store is packed with the most wonderful gifts, caters for all your practical needs and offers a full range of services to help enhance every woman's pregnancy.
